MR. GREEN,

BEING a Farmer myself, and much alarmed at the great Damage done by many Persons in this Province and Virginia, by Mowing or Reaping, and destroying whole Crops of Wheat in the Ricks, Stacks and that in Barns; may upon the Grain after it is Threshed, if not Ground, though as yet it has been my good Fortune to escape Damage this Way, I have taken some Pains, by Way of Enquiry, if they are not in some Part of Britain visited by them; and by a Ship of England Boat, I am told, they very seldom appear among their Wheat: but that the Vermin appear as uncertain as that of the Locust and Caterpillar in this Part of America, and perhaps the Method of discovering them in Time, and preventing Damage from them, if as follows.

After your Wheat is Reap'd, let it stand in the thickest Ryke or Sun Dry, and when you are taking it in, examine your Sheafs, and if it's the Year for their Appearance you will discover on some of the Heads little Clusters of them; and after your Discovery by the Eye, take Notice of the Smell of that particular Sheaf, and you may afterwards tell without observing what Sheafs they are in, for they smell very disagreeable.

Now, to prevent the Damage from them, when you are reaping or your Grain is Barn or Ricked, you must sprinkle or rub the over every Course of Sheafs, every third, but Oyster-Shell or Sussex Lime, call the best to be. Upon Trial, the above is found to be of Service to preserve them Weeks, my Father & myself, and I only Say, Experto Credite.

Your humble Servant,

BENJAMIN.

Boston, November 27.

ON the 11th Instant, the Indians attacked our Centry, who was posted in the Church Yard of the Village of Gage, from whence they were obliged to retire, on Account of the Superiority of the Enemy; but upon the Approach of the Provincials, who were met with three Battalions, the Enemy fled, after a Precipitation, and left their Dead upon the Spot, to the Number of 8 or 9, the Remainder by the Appearance of a much greater Number of Blood, are supposed to have carried off with them. The Provincials lost on the Occasion a Captain, a Lieutenant, and 15 Men, and 14 Wagoners part of their Wounded were sent to Pittsfield. In the Night of the 12th they abandoned the Village of Gage, and on the 21st Major General Amherst, upon receiving the Enemy, found that they had likewise left their Camp at Ticonderoga, and had retired to Crown Point, which Mr. Martindale took Possession of Friendship with his whole Body of Troops.

This is very different from the last Project; and the Country of Gaul is actually [illegible]

IT muſt give the higheſt Satisfaction to the whole Kingdom to find their Repreſentatives ſo ſolicitous to ſtimulate our Commanders by Sea and Land to an Exertion of all their Powers, by conferring on ſuch of them as advantageouſly diſtinguiſhed themſelves laſt Summer, that higheſt Mark of Honour, the Public Thanks of their Country. Admiral Oſborn's Anſwer to the Speaker of the Honours, the Houſe of Commons (who, by Command of the Houſe, had performed the agreeable Office, by ſignifying to him their Thanks for the Services he had done to his King and Country), was in theſe modeſt and genteel Terms:

" Sir, I want Words to expreſs my Senſe of " the Honour the Houſe of Commons has been " pleaſed to confer upon me; and only Regret, " that I am ſo unfortunate as not to be able, by " performing any Gratitude to their moſt Affec- " tionate Servant, to make a proper Return for " ſuch a Mark of their Favour to my Services. I " can only aſſure the Houſe that my Duty, I hope, " has been the humble, though happy, Inſtrument " of executing the moſt gracious Intentions of " my Maſter, and that Gratitude ſhould be the " Property of every Subject of Great Britain.

" Please my Pride, Sir, is my Glory; but what " is common to me as a Seaman, and as an Engliſh- " man, ſtands in the Sacredneſs of my Character, " which is ſtudied to be preſerved with the higheſt " Reſpect. Pleaſe my Country, Sir, is my Duty, " my Health, &c. I can know myſelf of no Hap- " pineſs but few Opportunities of employing the Re- " mainder of my Life in a grateful Exertion of " my Abilities for the Honour and Intereſt of my " Country. But as the Houſe of Commons is ſo " gloriouſly watchful to encourage the gallant " Heart, by rewarding the laſt, England can " never want good Officers. And however, ho- " noured I am by this Diſtinction, may my Ser- " vices be the moſt inconſiderable part of what " ſhall be acknowledged. I am, with the greateſt " Reſpect, Sir, your moſt obedient, and moſt " humble Servant, HENRY OSBORN.

" 21 December 8, 1758."

Dec. 12. Accounts from Paris ſay, that a little while ago the poor Grenadiers, to the Number of 400, who were taken in the unfortunate Expedition at St. Cas, marched through that City, by Way of Parade and Shew, in their Way to Calais, for England; that they appeared very ſhabby, and half Starved, having found a wide Difference between their Stone Manger and our Engliſh Beef, of which we hope they will ſoon have their Bellies full.

It is ſaid a general Cartel is ſettled with the French, and that the Priſoners on both Sides will be ſoon exchanged.

December 14. It is imagined by many People that Commodore Hughes is deſtined againſt Guadaloupe only: For (ſay they) Fort St. Pierre, in Martinico, is greatly too ſtrong to be taken by Sea; and he has not Force to ſpare if he ſhould, becauſe there are 40,000 white People on the Iſland fit to bear Arms, and near one Third muſket to the Uſe of them; they alſo obſerve that we muſt Land by Gunſhot, in different Parts on the Side of the Iſland, deſtroy their Plantations, and perhaps carry off ſome of the Negroes; and that is all. However, the moſt prevalent Opinion is, that his Orders are to attack and take, if poſſible, both Places.

Dec. 16. We hear that 32,000 of the Troops of Hanover, Wolfenbuttel, &c. will be commanded with the Highlanders in Britiſh Pay another Year, in Order to diſtreſs the French more effectually, by obliging them to divide their Forces.

The Empreſs of Ruſſia has offered great Encouragement for Engliſh Schoolmaſters to come and reſide in her Dominions, for teaching the Engliſh Tongue univerſally known there, together with the Engliſh Method of Mercantile Book-keeping.

The Thanks of the Houſe of Commons were tendered to Admiral Boſcawen, by their Right Honourable Speaker, in the following nervous and elegant Terms.

" Admiral Boſcawen,

" The Houſe have unanimouſly Reſolved, that " their Thanks ſhould be given to you, for the " Services you have done to your King and Coun- " try in North-America; and it is my Duty to " convey their Thanks to you.

" I wiſh I could do it in a Manner ſuitable to " the Occaſion, and as they ought to be given to " you, now Standing in your Place, as a Member " of this Houſe.

" But were I able to enumerate and do Juſtice " to the laſt Months, the great and ſucceſsful Ad- " vantages accruing to this Nation from the Con- " queſt of Louiſburg, with the Iſlands of Cape " Breton and St. John, I could only aſſure you, " Reputation of mine has already been, and ſhall " the greateſt and uniform Senſe and Language of " every Part of the Kingdom.

" Their Joy too has been equal to their Senſe " of it upon this intereſting Event; and in their " Sentiments and Joy they have expreſſed their " Gratitude alſo to you, Sir, as a principal Inſtru- " ment in their moſt important Acquiſitions.

" You are now therefore receiving the Acknow- " ledgments of the People, only as a great Part " of Whom (and the Voice of the Houſe of " Repreſentatives is the Voice of the People) [illegible]

"Honourable Place than any Man can arrive at "in this, or any other Country. It is, on these "Occasions, as Manners denote, from a Free "People, every Encomium to be conferred, as Or- "ders to be the more esteemed, as be the greater "Reward; and which ought to be endeavoured for the "most signal Services to the State, and the most "extraordinary Merit in Office: such as Heads have usually, and very lately, made their Objects of "Public Rewards.

"The Offer I am perswaded, you will make of "this just Testimony, and high Reward of your "Services and Merit, will be the preserving to "your own Mind a lasting Impression of what the "Governors of Great Britain are now tendering "to you, and in a constant Continuance of the "Zeal and Ardour for the Glory of your King "and Country, which have made you to deserve "it."

"In Obedience of the Commands of the House, "I do, with great Pleasure to myself, give "you the Thanks of the House, for the "Services you have done to your King and "Country in North America."

Upon which Admiral Boscawen said:

"Mr. Speaker,

"I am happy in having been able to do my "Duty; but have not Words to express my Sense "of the distinguishing Reward, that has been con- "ferred upon me by this House; nor can I enough "thank you, Sir, for the polite and elegant Man- "ner in which you have been pleased to convey "to me the Resolution of the House."

This Evening arrived two Mails from Holland, by which we learn that the King of Prussia was still at Dresden; that he had required the States of Saxony to furnish 18,000 Recruits against the Spring; and the Clergy, Abbeys and Convents, to pay 150,000 Crowns towards defraying the Charges of Rebuilding the Suburbs of Dresden; and had also ordered the Superintendant-west to be inquiring in distributing Money to such as should appear to have lost their All by the Burning of the Suburbs.

Marshal Daun hath established his Head Quarters at Prague.

We hear that a Warrant is ordered for holding a general Court Martial on Major-General Lord Charles Hay.

We hear that a Pardon is ordered for Dr. Henley, now a Prisoner in Newgate for High Treason, which will pass the great Seal before the Holidays, on Condition that he transports himself out of these Kingdoms within a limited Time.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, Nov. 25.

"This Morning set out from the Blue Post on the Point for London, 18 Waggons loaded with the Merchants Money brought home in the Intrepid Man of War, Capt. Pratton, from Cadiz. The Whole Sum is upwards of 1,100,000 l. all in Dollars."

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Dublin, to his Friend in London, dated Nov. 14, 1758.

SIR,

"I received yours some Time since, and am sorry to write to you on so melancholy an Occasion. The Mail on board which one of the Box you forwarded to me was shipped, i. e. the Dublin, Capt. White, foundered at Sea, and every Person therein to the Number of 60 Souls, perished. All the effects he carried are lost; which, it is said, amounted to upwards of 150,000 l. Sterling. It is well known there was upwards of 70,000 l. in Specie, and 80,000 l. in Goods. The Passengers were almost all eminent Linen Drapers and Shop-keepers of this City, who were coming from Chester Fair. It is thought this most Calamitous Accident will occasion many Bankruptcies, and reduce several Families to Beggary."

Extract of a Letter from an Officer on board Admiral Saunders's Fleet, Nov. 23.

"I have the Pleasure of informing you, that on the 18th Instant, when we were about fifteen Leagues to the Southward of Ushant, the Albion gave us Intelligence of five Ships of the Line, five Frigates, and above 6000 Sail of Transports, leaving Brest the Morning before. They stood to the Southward. She had not lost Sight of them above two or three Hours before we spoke with her; upon which we made all the Sail that could be set, and chased them. Next Morning the Albion being a-head, fired a Gun, made the Signal for seeing a Fleet, and the general Signal to chase, was made, but to our great Chagrin, after chasing eight Hours, they proved to be five Spanish Ships of War. Notwithstanding this Disappointment, we killed here on Sir we were above 70 Leagues South West of Ushant, and were determined to keep great Watch after them, but we were met with a Gale of Wind from the Southward, that drove us to the Northward, where we are pretty well assured they have not got to the Southward of us yet, but are put into St. Martins, to Ladies Repair of meeting with them, as we are ordered Cape Clear to Ushant.

"P. S. The Achilles of 64 Guns, and Dorsetshire, of 74, left us on the 17th Instant, to convoy of Cape Breton, for Port Rue Bastard."

BOSTON, February 13.

By a Gentleman from Providence, we learn, that Capt. Cook, a Privateer Sloop, belonging to that Place, had taken and sent in there last Week a Spanish Ship of about 70 Tons, having on board 600 Hogsheads of Sugar, and some Coffee; but was retaken from Capt. Cook, and the Captain pretends she is Danish Property; but by some Discoveries made, that is like to prove a good Prize.

We have also an Account come from Providence, that within ten Days, no less than 11,588 Squirrels were shot in the County of Providence; and that all producing the Heads, 11,500 Heads were at the Treasury.—The Heads of the Squirrels measured 29 Bushels and an Half. [What a fine Mess of Squirrel-soup-Broth might have been made with Salt in Number of Squirrels! An old experienced Soup-maker, grown fat by her Office, thinks she would not (of small Cattle, with their Heads on) have made less than 3,250 Gallons and a Pint.]

We hear from Rhode-Island, that the New-York Privateer Brig Sampson, and her Prize, were cast away there in the violent Storm we had last Friday Se'nnight, the former near Collins's Farm, the latter on Point Judith.

Tocker from Lisbon, who arrived at Marblehead last Wednesday.

Capt. Hewett in a Sloop belonging to Piscataqua bound to this Place, foundered at Sea in the late stormy Weather; the People saved their Lives by taking to their Boat, and got safe into Plymouth.
